

RoofGard

A long-lasting coating that protects and restores concrete roof tiles

Andura

Why choose RoofGard

Andura Roofgard protects and enhances the surface of concrete roof tiles giving them the colour and appearance of new roof.

Roof tiles are continuously attacked by the elements and become porous with age and as a result creating the ideal conditions to promote the growth of moss and lichens. The unwanted growth, over a period of time, results in a shabby appearance, decreasing the value of your home.

Roofgard gives your concrete tiles the colour and appearance of a new roof along with excellent protection against weathering. It is important to treat concrete tiles because they become less resistant to weather, mould and lichen growth over time. Choose from our selection of 7 colours and give your roof a new look.

In independent tests carried out by the Paint Research Association (PRA), Roofgard was shown to be exceptionally durable, performing well, with good colour stability for more than 10 year, thereby extending the life of your roof. PRA concludes that the Roofgard performed very well with very little change in surface appearance and no discernible detrimental effect.
